Dear Trish,

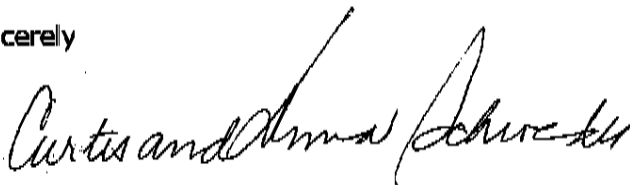

As we have now settled into our new home, we reflect on the dedicated efforts of the individuals who made it possible. The first person to come to mind is you. With a nervous real estate market and an overstock of existing homes available in our price range, just selling our house was a huge decision.

Your ability to provide an accurate home market analysis, latest buyer trends, home improvement suggestions, realistic seller expectations, etc. in a business format with a sensitive understanding of our concerns gave us the confidence to put our home on the market.

We would like to thank you for a "job well done". Our home sold at a great price in an extremely crowded market because of your superior skills and unfaltering determination. Your professionalism and willingness to be available when we needed assistance was a tremendous comfort and helped offset the natural anxiety and stress of selling our home.

We have enjoyed working with you and will recommend you to anyone requesting realty expertise.

Sincerely

Curtis and Donna Schroeder
