To Whom It May Concern:

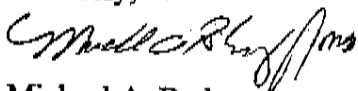

We highly recommend Trish des Groseilliers. My wife and I selected Trish des Groseilliers from a group of agents that we knew and one year later, we could not be happier with our decision. Trish was both our buyer's and seller's agent, and she made both processes really quite simple.

Trish knows the community very well. We were in no particular rush to find the perfect house, and for this goal, Trish proved herself the perfect agent. Trish understood this situation and informed us as soon as a house fitting our interests came on the market. Many times, we were the first ones to see a listed home. She seemed instantly aware of any price reductions (an asset that ultimately led us to the home we would buy). She came to understand our likes and tastes, and really kept an eye out for the kinds of homes that interested us, even as the months went by. In our many months of carefully searching for our perfect home, Trish was extremely patient. It would not be an exaggeration to say that we looked at over thirty homes (and several homes more than once!). We often worried that our careful search for the perfect home would begin to frustrate Trish as a waste of her time. Yet, her response was always the same: "I'm learning as you're learning". She felt that she was learning more about our tastes and likes, while at the same time learning more about the market and the available properties. We were always impressed and thankful of her limitless patience.

Equally, Trish des Groseilliers is a tremendous advocate for her clients. She helped us avoid several pitfalls in our transactions as both buyers and sellers. In a neighborhood with several homes for sale, ours had an offer within days of coming on market. We feel that Trish's knowledge of the community and current market situation directly contributed to the quick sale of our home. Trish also possesses meticulous organizational skills. She had a complete command of the necessary deadlines and requirements that are critical to buying and selling a home. Her organizational skills easily outshined the agents "on the other side of the table" in both our transactions. Trish really did make the complex process very simple. And perhaps most importantly, Trish possesses exceptional integrity. She navigates the competitive real estate world with honesty and clarity. We always had complete confidence that Trish had our interests first in her mind.

In the end, we highly recommend Trish des Groseilliers. Over the course of several months, we found our "dream home", and in the brief period of a few weeks, we easily sold our previous home. We owe much of this success to Trish.

Sincerely,

Michael A. Barkasy
